Administration . . .

They have shown us the way to construct a firm foundation

By building along with us and lending inspiration.

To the staff of the school, our most heartfelt thanks we give;

For with their help and guidance
we are learning how to live.

Superintendent of Schools

Harry R. McPhail

Throughout the history of American education, the public schools have been recognized as the foundation of our society. Our schools have been charged with the task of building citizens, with an understanding of their inheritances of the past and their future responsibilities. Today, as never before, our students must be helped to understand and appreciate our democratic way of life and the necessity of preserving it in the future.

The public school is the one great institution which we must maintain if we are to continue to build strong foundations for our future society. We are charged with the responsibility of providing the opportunity of a free public education to every boy and girl. The kind and amount of education our boys and girls receive depend entirely on the effort and willingness of the community to maintain good schools. Adequate school facilities society is to be supported by a strong and dependable foundation.

Mr. McPhail, who has just completed his fourth successful year as superintendent of the Ames Public School system, is leaving Ames to take a position at Freeport, Illinois. During the past year Mr. McPhail has successfully coordinated the school's activities and functions. He further developed the schools' educational facilities and programs.

The superintendent office staff is made up of Harry R. McPhail, superintendent of schools; Frank B. Howell, secretary to Board of Education; Mrs. Grayce I. Elliott, secretary to superintendent; Miss Laura Sayre, secretary to Board secretary; Mrs. Edna H. Davis, bookkeeper; Miss Diane Schultz, secretary.

High School Principal

Many hands reached out to help you, members of the class of 1955, in laying your foundations for the future. As you consider your high school graduation, we know you must be deeply grateful for the love and security of good American homes, for open-doored churches pointing out to you the fundamental issues of life, for schools staffed with teachers who really cared about you as individuals, for a community willing to sacrifice that you might be ready for what lies ahead.

We of the faculty hope that you will aim in the future at continued growth in human and spiritual relationships, in economic efficiency and social responsibility. We hope, furthermore, that you continue to support the democratic process to believe in supreme worth, dignity and unique character of each individual person.

We wish each of you continued success and happiness in the hope that you, the community and even the entire world will be a little better because you at one time were Ames High students.

Best of luck, seniors!

Herbert Adams

Mr. Adams, principal, deserves the admiration of the student body for the help and guidance he has given throughout the past year. The principal's greatest duty is the task of making out schedules to satisfy 526 students.

All of the activities of the high school revolve around the office of the principal. What is sometimes confusion is put in order by the office staff, which is composed of Mrs. Daisy Flack, Miss Barbara Hyler, and the student help: Zoya Sobolev, Sharon Fiori, Jo Ann Schramper, Terry Broadwell, Marcia Wilsie, Judy Broadwell, Rosmary Ritland, Dorothy Van Der Wilt, Joyce Lilly, Mary K. Winkler, Mary Lou McCardle.

BOARD OF EDUCATION CO-ORDINATES SCHOOL ACTIVITIES AND POLICIES

The Board of Education acts as the governing body of the public school system. The Board plans the budget and is in charge of all school financial matters as well as deciding all school policies. Election is held each March to elect members for three-year terms. Terms are staggered so there will always be experienced members on the Board.

The Board of Education elects the Superintendent of schools, who is the executive officer of the board. The Board appoints a secretary for each year, and a treasurer is elected every two years. Members of the 1954-55 Board of Education are: Frank E. Adams, President; Frank B. Howell, Secretary; Hiram Munn, Treasurer; Thomas E. Hannum; Leslie B. Harrison; Earl Holtz; Mrs. Lee Rosebrook; Don S. Stevens; Mrs. Julia Cole Welden; Superintendent Harry R. McPhail. Mr. Howell, who has been secretary of the Board for thirty-two years, also serves as purchasing agent. His duties include the purchasing of school supplies and the responsibility for the rental of school property.

Regular meetings of the Board are held on the second Monday in each calendar month and are always open to the public. Special meetings, also open to the public, may be called when necessary.

An election was held on March 14 and Mrs. Lee Rosebrook, Dr. Julia Cole Welden, and Earl Holtz were re-elected for the coming term.

The Board of Education is cognizant of the increasing enrollment in the public school systems, especially as it applies to the Ames School System. Studies have been made of projected enrollments and tentative plans have been made for providing housing at the secondary school level. A recent bond issue was passed by an eighty-two percent majority for the construction of fifteen classrooms on the elementary school level. It is expected that these classrooms will be completed for the opening of the 1956-57 term.

Cafeteria Staff

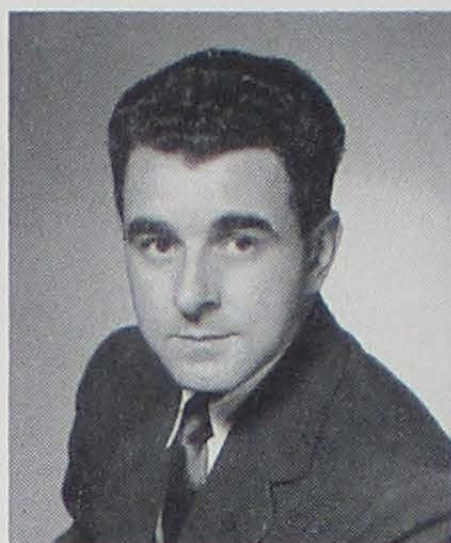

The aromas which filled the corridors every noon could be attributed to the cafeteria staff. Their job was to plan, prepare, and serve well balanced meals each school day for approximately 130 people. The supervisor, Mrs. Maude Marsh, was aided by two assistants, Mrs. Cornelia Erickson and Mrs. Anna Moreland. Students who helped, receive their meals free of charge and were excused from third period class a few minutes early. Rosalee Points and Betsy Hertz served as cashiers. Besides collecting the money, they were responsible for taking it to the bank each noon. Serving in the line were Audrey Brekke, Terry Broadwell, Carolyn Sands, and Edith Foderberg. No matter how many dishes they broke, the dish washers always had more dirty ones. Carroll Brekke, Bob Bragonier, John Kjerland, Roger Teig, and John Lawson made up the dish washing detail. Craig Miller was in charge of faculty lunches. The menu was set each morning by Nancy Olson.

MISS RUTH ECKLIND has done an outstanding job in carrying out the responsibilities and duties of the school nurse. Physical examinations were given to all new students and students who had been absent from school for three days or more because of illness. Miss Ecklind also tested the vision and hearing of all high school students.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL LEADS MIDDLE MEN THROUGH AN EVENTFUL YEAR

The Junior Executive Council lead their class through a very successful year.

Steve Adams ably handled the job of class president; John Goessman, vice-president; Sharon Small, secretary; and Virginia Randau, treasurer. They co-operated throughout the year with the Junior Executive Council and the faculty sponsor, George MacBride. Council members were Jim Carr, 211; Jean Talcott, 111; Karen Wall, 206; and Sally Kooser, 236.

The Heiress by Ruth and Augustus Goetz, under the direction of Robert T. Hamilton, was presented on February 11 and 12. The final selection of the play was made by the Junior Executive Council. Jim Balloun accepted the job of assistant director, and Louis Thompson became stage manager. Crew heads for the Junior Class Play were Maryn Searls, stage; Zoya Sobolev, props; John McComb, lights; Julie Hegland, make-up; Mary Chase and Audrey Mather, costumes; Ira Berck, sound; Sharon Small and Jean Talcott, publicity; Steve Adams and John Goessman, programs; Virginia Randau and Sally Kooser, ticket sales; Karen Wall and Jim Carr, house management. The play was given as a project to raise money for the prom.

The junior-senior prom climaxed the year for upperclassmen.

SENIORS BID FAREWELL AS THEY CONCLUDE HIGH SCHOOL CAREERS

As the seniors prepared to leave Ames High, and to build foundations in fields of the wide world, they were led in their final year's activities by the Senior Senate. The Senate is composed of the four class officers, the six homeroom presidents and one representative elected from each senior homeroom. Working with Bob Campbell, president, were Joe Williams, vice-president; Sugar Schilletter, secretary; and Kay Bruce, treasurer. Homeroom presidents were Lenon Sifrit, Jack Ayres, Brian Barron, Bill Carney, Dave Roach and Bev Ogg. Representing their homerooms were Martha Parrish, 109; Mary Lynne Howe, 113; Dick Kratoska, 138; Ed Mezvinsky, 210; Bob Walkup, 233; and Tom Emmerson, 234.

During March the members of the Senate read a variety of plays, and selected The Curious Savage, by John Patrick, for presentation by the seniors in May. The play was under the direction of Robert Hamilton, with other committees headed by members of the senate. Proceeds from the play went toward financing Senior Week, which was the climax of the senior year.

Members of the senate collected rental fees for caps and gowns and money for announcements. They were in charge of all plans for the seniors.

Baccalaureate was held on Sunday evening, May 29. On May 31 seniors attended a picnic at the Ames Golf and Country Club, spending the day in various sports and activities.

With many a backward glance and lingering goodbye, seniors concluded their high school days and received their diplomas at Commencement on June 2.

Way Back When

Do you recognize these "youngsters?" For positive identification see last page of index.

School Life . . .

Do we ever stop to think what a major part they play:

These common school experiences which happen every day?

It's what we do in classrooms,
at games and parties, too

That will help us in the future
no matter what we do.

All in Our Places

Is it coming through?

STUDENT COUNCIL WORKING DEMOCRACY IN MEETING SCHOOL PROBLEMS

The top echelon: First and second semester student body presidents, Sheila Grant and Joe Williams with Everett Ritland, student council sponsor.

In addition to meeting many problems of the school, members of the student council gained valuable experience in practical democracy. They met once a week throughout the year with Everett Ritland, sponsor, and discussed all important details concerning students.

The council was made up of each homeroom president, who kept his homeroom informed of the student council business.

Sheila Grant, the first girl ever elected by the student body to the high post of student body president, presided over student council the first semester. Joe Williams assumed command during the second semester.

FIRESQUAD MEMBERS KEEP ORDER IN HALLS, PERFORM MANY SERVICES

Though not always the most popular organization in the school, the 39 members of the Firesquad perform many valuable services in keeping the school well run. It is their duty to be monitors in the hall, before school and at noon, and to issue the "undesired" little red slips. Contrary to some beliefs, these red slips are not for papering the insides of lockers, but are warnings for misconduct.

Thirteen new sophomore members are chosen each year from lists of names submitted by the junior high principals. In addition to being members for three years, the wearers of the orange and black badges receive activity tickets which serve as free passes to any school function.

Each spring the club members elect officers for the following year. Chosen to lead the group this year were Tom Emmerson and Jim Cole, who conduct the weekly meetings held each Thursday noon.

Thirteen posts have been placed in the corridors in order to cover the entire building. Each member, assigned to a position by Miss Miller, rotates around these jobs, completing the cycle in 13 weeks. Special attention is given to such things as failure to obey directions during fire drills, crowding into the cafeteria line, running up and down stairs, and slamming lockers.

The "grand finale" of the year for all Fire-squad members and their dates was the annual Firesquad picnic held at Brookside Park.

Student Treasurers

BACK: Miss McNally, Randau, R. Nichols, Bartley, Watkins, Davis, Garrett, M. Howe. FRONT: F. Green, N. Sanford, Parrish, Bruce, B. Hertz, Sobolev.

TREASURERS SEE MUCH MONEY PASS, KEEP ALL RECORDS OF TRANSACTIONS

Money, sometimes called "the root of all evil," is kept well in hand by the student treasurers. Each treasurer, before assuming his duties, must show that he does not have "sticky fingers," and can keep accurate and complete records. With the great amount of money passing through the school each year, it is very important to have a good system of checks. The entire system is under the supervision of Mary McNally, general treasurer. Donald Hartt is athletic treasurer.

All money received goes into one general fund, with separate books kept at the high school. In this way, organizations can operate even if they are in the red. Each year an auditor checks the books of the previous year.

When a group takes in money, the group treasurer counts it, makes out receipts, and turns it over to the general treasurer. After several countings by the general treasurer and her assistant, the money is taken to the bank and deposited in the general account.

If money is wanted, the exact amount must be determined by checking at all stores and finding the lowest possible price, and a requisition written, signed by the sponsor and Mr. Adams. The signed requisition is taken to the general treasurer who makes out the check. To make the purchase, the check and requisition are taken to the store, and the signed requisition is returned to the general treasurer.

Donna Garrett was the assistant to the general treasurer and Jim Hixon was assistant to the athletic treasurer. Other treasurers were Kay Bruce and Bob Bartley, Student Council; Kay Bruce, Senior Class; Mary Lynne Howe, Girl Reserves; Bob Bartley and Roger Nichols, Hi-Y; Bev Morford and Nancy Sanford, Band and Orchestra; Bob Watkins and Warren Benson, Radio Club; Betsy Hertz, Dramatics Club; Frances Green, Vocal Music Department; Martha Parrish, Pep Club; Zoya Sobolev, Girls' Athletic Association; and Dick Davis, SPIRIT.

YEAR OF FUTURE HOMEMAKERS PRESENTED IN "SPIRIT" FOR FIRST TIME

Working in preparation for later life, in addition to helping with worthwhile projects through the year, were the members of the Future Homemakers of America. Under the sponsorship of Miss Blanche Miller, the group knitted squares for lap robes for the Veterans' Hospital in Des Moines.

The FHA officers were installed in October. Officers were Barbara Vogt, president; Helen Throckmorton, vice-president; Mary Jo Jackson, secretary; Diane Brown, treasurer; Betty Rude, historian; Linda Lester, parliamentarian; Mary Manning, recreation; Carol Anne Fausch, music; and Edith Foderburg, publicity.

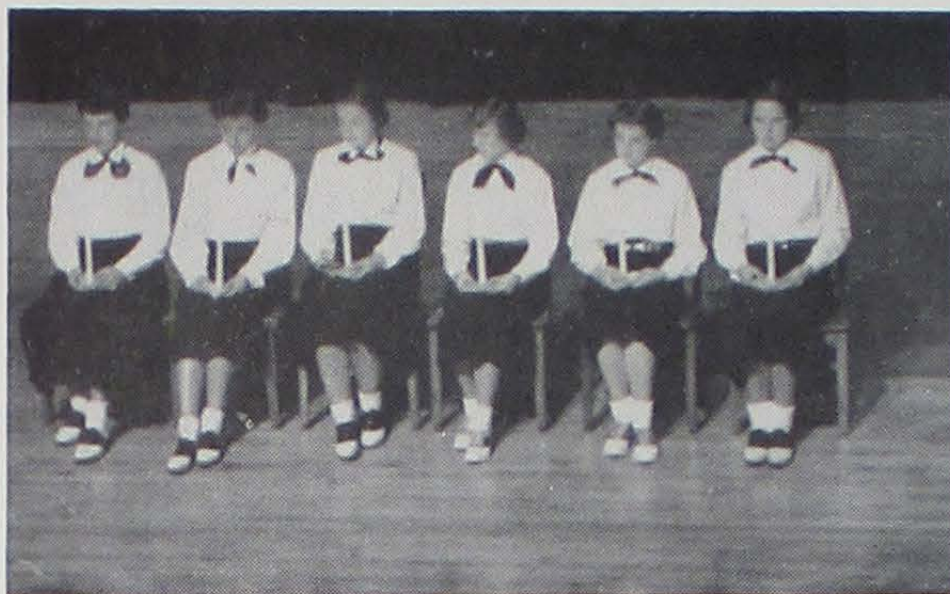

During November the Ames High FHA presented a radio skit over KASI in observance of National Future Homemakers of America Week. During the fall they also attended a district convention in Nevada to learn more about FHA. On April 1 and 2, Barbara Vogt and Mary Jo Jackson attended the state convention in Des Moines. In January, a party was held at which the girls invited guests.

The motto of the organization is "Toward new horizons." The colors are red and white with the flower the red rose.

Girl Reserves

One of the major service clubs in the high school, and one which gives all girls an opportunity to participate, is Girl Reserve. The theme of the club, "World Peace Through Understanding," was carried out in a variety of programs.

Girl Reserves were led by four officers, 12 cabinet members, and 18 homeroom representatives. Two girls served on each cabinet post, which were social, program, publicity, service, music and devotions. The representatives were the vital connecting link between their homerooms and the cabinet and officers.

Meetings were held twice a month, with each meeting consisting of devotions, music, and a program. Among the programs were a style show, slides, travel talks, talks by local ministers and skits.

Lydia Tancers, a Latvian war orphan, was again supported by Girl Reserve this year. In addition to sending her money, the girls sent her several boxes of clothing and gifts and wrote her letters. Clothing was also sent to Germany and other places of need. Money for the various projects was raised by the sale of holly wreaths and sprays and pencils with Ames High or the basketball schedule printed on them.

At Christmastime, girls gave gifts to the women at the County Home. They also helped decorate rooms at Mary Greeley Hospital and made favors for the hospital trays.

Early in the fall, Girl Reserve and Hi-Y gave the Newcomers' Party in the gym. Also in the fall, the girls honored their dads at the Dad-Daughter party. The Mother-Daughter tea was held in May following installation of officers.

Hi-Y

Hi-Y provides an opportunity for all boys in the school to be a part of a large service organization. The purpose of the club is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character. Though boys were not required to belong, they each were eligible for membership if they desired.

The group met every other week, alternating with hobby groups and general meetings. The hobby groups were aeronautics, athletics, auto mechanics, chess, hunting and fishing, and photography. The general meetings consisted of movies, speakers, and other programs of interest.

Hi-Y carries on many worthwhile activities. During the Christmas season, they joined with the Girl Reserve in distributing gifts to men and women at the County Home. They also cooperated with Girl Reserve in sponsoring Friendship Week in February and the Newcomers' Party in the fall.

Firesides are held each year at Lynn Fuhrer Lodge for the football squad and the sophomores, juniors, and seniors. The boys also have an opportunity to get together in the Hi-Y lounge, which is maintained by the Hi-Y.

The group supports a Greek boy, John Tziyeroglou. To finance this and other projects, the boys sold concessions at home athletic events and this year for the first time sold Ames High decals. The boys also contributed a nickel a month for support of John.

Everett Ritland is sponsor of the organization.

JUNIOR RED CROSS MEMBERSHIP DRIVE NETS $78.70 IN HOMEROOM DRIVE

During the past year, the Red Cross has accomplished a number of projects, under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Dickinson. The Red Cross council was made up of representatives from each homeroom and anyone else who wished to belong. Meetings were called regularly to plan and carry out activities. The group was led by Terry Adams, first semester; and Janice Bowers, second semester.

In the fall Terry Adams appeared on WOI-TV with Mrs. Beryl Tague, West Story County Chairman. They discussed the role of the Junior Red Cross in the community. A program was also presented for the county home.

A few girls stuffed and dressed dolls which were included in Christmas boxes for needy families in Story County.

On March 12, the Red Cross sponsored a half-hour of entertainment for the Golden Ager's Club here in Ames.

The month of March was designated for the membership drive. Red Cross containers and buttons were placed in each room. The money collected from homerooms totaled $78.80. Homeroom 111 contributed $6.55; 233, $5.88; 238, $5.72; 109, $5.66; 235, $5.46; 108, $5.18; 232, $4.96; 138, $4.91; 236, $4.87; 113, $4.81; 210, $4.64; 237, $4.15; 110, $3.90; 211, $3.72; 208, $2.65; 213, $2.22; 206, $2.18; 234, $1.24. The homeroom average was $4.37.

Junior Red Cross members received valuable training through their experience of helping others. The membership committee was led by Warren Benson; and the music prepared by Sally Schaefer. All art work was produced by Karen Allen and Margaret Schwartz.

"To have free trade or not to have free trade?" that is the question. Questions such as these were discussed freely in the debate club, sponsored by Allen F. Gates. Bob Bartley and Jan Judisch, presidents, presided over the weekly meetings.

The debaters participated in eight out of town discussion groups and debates. The Brindley Debate was one of the debates held at the Iowa State Teachers College. The negative team rated superior at Coe College in February. At the district tourney in Mason City the team took second place.

Ames held its first invitational debate tournament on March 5. Muscatine placed first in team ratings and Ames and Newton tied for second place.

On March 31 the team placed third in the three day Iowa High School Forensic League Tournament in Iowa City.

Ramshackle Inn is a play about an old maid librarian who purchases a strange tumbledown place near the ocean, and gets what she bargains for—plus a good deal besides.

The dramatic club as a class under the direction of Robert T. Hamilton has studied the history of the theatre, orientation to equipment, set construction, scene design, costume history, stage, make-up, lighting, pantomime, techniques of acting, voice, and presentation of scenes. Also included is work in all aspects of the production of Ramshackle Inn, Dust of the Road, The Heiress, and The Curious Savage.

Adapted from a novel by Ruth and August Goetz, The Heiress is a story about a rather plain girl who becomes bewildered by a proposal for marriage from a gold seeking fortune hunter. Finding out that the young heiress will receive a smaller inheritance, the lover jilts her. Later he returns to propose again in earnest. She then gains her revenge by jilting him.

This play was chosen by the junior class from the list of dramas Robert Hamilton, dramatic director, presented to be voted on. George MacBride, sponsor of the junior class, advised the council in all aspects of the production.

Over 60 juniors worked more than 200 hours as members of the cast and crews to perfect their performance.

Although The Heiress was a class play, the dramatics club was very instrumental in its production.

Besides working on this play, drama students learned about stage design by actually designing their own sets. Also covered was a unit on costumes, acting and dramatic criticism. Written assignments over the different units of study were placed in notebooks in order to receive one-fourth credit.

STUDENTS TIP-TOE THROUGH VALUABLE TRAINING IN LIBRARY CLUB

Mrs. Elizabeth Dickinson, school librarian

A quiet and orderly library was maintained by Mrs. Elizabeth Dickinson and her library club. Led by officers Leslie Smith and Cay Hall, presidents, the club planned and carried out many activities. The nineteen girls have made numerous improvements in the filing system. Clippings and all available data are placed in the file for authors. This file was started by the library club and was easily accessible to the finger tips of any student. In the conference room the reference material for scholarships was filed along with bulletins from different universities and colleges. Other projects were the classifying and cataloging of new books, checking books in and out, repairing books and magazines, keeping the card catalogue in order, and coping with rising catastrophies.

The seasonal displays, which have adorned the school, are credited to the artistic endeavors of the club. Each girl contributed in some way to the selecting and arranging of material for the second-floor display case. The Easter display was striking to most students because of its simplicity and clear-cut meaning.

This work experience in the library guides many girls into a new found career.

STAFF SPENDS MANY HOURS, MUCH PENCIL LEAD IN WEB PRODUCTION

With many wishes of "Why don't they get shorter inches?," to "Come on typewriter, get on the ball!," the journalism staff each Wednesday put out the Weekly Web in the Ames Tribune. Members of the class selected a department in which to specialize and worked in cooperation with their elected editor and Mrs. Charlotte Whitney, sponsor.

The staff positions were the editors of assignments, copy, makeup, sports, features, pictures, headlines and exchange.

The class learned fundamentals and good techniques of journalistic writing and after collecting their information, had lab periods on Fridays and Mondays to do the actual work on the paper. Proof reading was done each Wednesday morning at the Tribune office.

Because of the large size, the second semester class worked on a two staff basis, alternating each week.

During October the journalism class attended the Iowa High School Press Association convention at Iowa State College. At these sessions, they had the opportunity to go to meetings covering all aspects of the field of journalism, and heard a variety of guest speakers.

Though they didn't have famous models as a subject, or didn't get to photograph thrilling murders and robberies, Photo Club members did find many interesting subjects on which to try their talents. They were often seen around the school with their trusty cameras and caught many good shots.

With programs and demonstrations planned and carried on by the members, Photo Club members "learned" as well as "did" in their weekly Thursday meetings. A different person was in charge of each meeting.

Several field trips were taken during the year to take pictures and learn by observation. One of these was a demonstration of the Fairchild engraver at the Tribune office. Another was a trip to dealers to photograph new model 1955 automobiles. The group also toured WOI television studios.

Movies shown during the year at club meetings were all aimed toward increasing knowledge of good photography. Demonstrations were given on copying and toning prints, reduction and intensification of negatives, and color photography.

Sponsor was Richard Trump who started this club several years ago as a noon hour project.

If the journalism students looked anxious for reasons other than deadlines and inches it's possible they were feeling the competition of the Cubs. Cubs' Club provided background and experience for students interested in journalism who were not part of the Web staff. Though they sometimes got "stuck" with the left-over stories, members learned a great deal about journalism.

Officers first semester were Bette Cottingham, president; Barb Smith, vice-president; and Susan Allen, secretary. Second semester leaders were Jo Schramper, president; Karen Wall, vice-president; and Mary McTague, secretary.

The Cubs met approximately every two weeks and had a variety of programs.

Their biggest project was putting out the first Web issue of the second semester.

Mrs. Charlotte Whitney was sponsor of the group. She proved to be a great help to the Cubs.

SPIRIT STAFF CONTRIBUTES TIME AND ENERGY IN COVERING OF YEAR

Sweat, long hours of work, deadline phobia, and many good times, have all gone into the making of this year's SPIRIT. The staff met four times each week, under the sponsorship of Richard Trump. In addition to these meetings, much "midnight oil" was burned as deadlines crept nearer and nearer.

The first business of the year was the selection of the SPIRIT cover. In this choice, as in all their work, the staff attempted to do that which would be liked by the greatest number of SPIRIT buyers.

This year's book is the largest in the past four or five years. Briefly, this is how it was produced: Over 125 cuts are included in the regular part of the book. The engravings, which are the pictures pasted on cardboard, were sent to an engraving company in Cedar Rapids. The engravers sent cuts to the printer, who did the actual printing of the book. Cuts are the pictures reproduced on zinc plates mounted on wooden blocks.

Members of the advertising staff, even though they didn't have regular meetings during school, were invaluable in the production of the SPIRIT. It was their job to sell all ads and collect the money for them. Members of the advertising staff were: Ann Culbertson, Mary Lynne Howe, Carolyn Maxwell, Nancy Pierre, Shirley Stevens, Vonnie Vilmont, Marcia Wilsie, Shirley Kooser, Susan Allen, Carol Cummings, Jo Ann Geiger, Margie Hirschburg, Barb Kurtz, Marcia Lindquist, Mary McTague, Ellen Molleston, Bonnie Rhoades, Jerry Shipley, Nancy Thompson, Roger Teig, Doris Witter and Kathy Wolf.

Film Operators

MOVIES RUN BY FILM OPERATORS PROVIDE FUN AS WELL AS EDUCATION

If interest is any indication, seeing must be believing, for the educational movies are always a popular spot in classroom work. If you were one of the many students who enjoyed leaving classrooms to see the various movies, you owe a vote of thanks to Kenneth Page and his Film Operators. This service club was in charge of all audio-visual equipment of the high school, and members were very frequently called on during the year to run the equipment. It was their aim to have movies right side up, forwards instead of backwards, and generally increase the entertainment, as well as educational, value.

The Film Operators, in addition to setting up and running movies, ran sound equipment, tape recorders, film strips, and anything else teachers wanted in the way of visual aids.

Members, if they met the requirements of the club, received one-fourth credit for their work. The group held regular meetings to instruct and train. When a new member joined and was desirous of learning the "tricks of the trade," he was assigned to an experienced member for instruction. In this way, more students had an opportunity to learn about the equipment and the basic fundamentals and it was an easy way in which to help new members.

Because of the great amount of work required by the many films shown in the high school, each semester a girl did office training as part of the club. The girls ordered films, filed catalogs, took care of all correspondence, and did other necessary work. Rosalee Points was in charge of these duties first semester and Jean Talcott, second semester. These girls received one-half credit per semester.

Also a member of the club was Ian Smith who ran the record player for all school parties.

Film Operators' Club is open to all interested students.

Radio Club

BACK: Bailey, Ayres, J. Dieckman, R. Carr. FRONT: Loren Larson, Livingston, Watkins, Dreeszen, Callahan, Bill Smith, Buck, Benson.

RADIO CLUB IS CHANCE FOR STUDENTS TO HAVE FUN AND LEARN RADIO WORK

Radio Club, under the sponsorship of Ronald Easter, was open to all students interested in radio work. The group met once each week, and held formal meetings every other week. The first semester officers were Jerry Livingston, director; Gary Bailey, chairman of activities; John McComb, chairman of equipment; Warren Benson, chairman of business; and Bob Watkins, treasurer. Second semester leaders were John McComb, director; Warren Benson, business; Gary Bailey, activities; and Lynn Dreeszen, equipment.

Members of the club used test instruments which belong to the school in repairing radios. They bought other materials with which to work from the Radio Club for a nominal sum. Members salvaged old radios, worked on amateur radios, and learned a good deal about radio work. They owned and maintained an amateur short wave radio station, WOTRI. They also had a television set which was built by a former radio club member.

Experiments and projects benefited members with knowledge useful throughout later life.

Radio Club members earned points toward becoming radio examiners. The only credit they received other than the training, experience, and fun was their membership card which goes in the permanent record.

Under the direction of Wayne Cross, the Girls' Glee Club this year was open to all girls who were genuinely interested in singing. It sang many songs just for enjoyment, but also performed for various groups and activities, including Friendship Week and the Christmas program. Officers of the junior and senior Girls' Glee Club were Alice King, president; Beverly Ellingson, vice-president; Joyce Lilly, secretary; Martha Parrish, librarian; and Carolyn Thrasher and Marilyn Ringgenberg, robe keepers.

Because of the large number of girls who signed up to sing, the sophomores had a separate group. Their officers were Ruth Hosmer, president; Virginia Wright, vice-president; Sharon Jones, secretary; and Karyl Sills, librarian. Both clubs are pictured at right in one group.

The choir performed many times. In addition to the Christmas program and Friendship Week, several of their other programs were at Welch and Central junior highs, for the Rotarians, Lions, and Kiwanians, and at their annual concert on April 22.

MUSICIANS MAKE NUMEROUS PERFORMANCES, ENTER ALL-STATE COMPETITION

The Ames High concert band practiced each morning before school and learned the meaning of "practice makes perfect." The 76-piece band elected Jack Ayres, president; Ron Griffith, vice president; Beverly Morford, secretary-treasurer; and Kay Buchholtz, librarian.

The annual spring concert was held on March 25. Featured on the program were Tchaikowski's March Slave and Moussorgsky's The Hut of the Baba-Yaga and The Great Gate of Kiev. Soloists for the evening were Terry Rust, Don Ostermann, and Bill Ferguson, trumpets; Dallas Tjaden, violin; and Terry Rust, piano.

Besides numerous assembly programs, the band performed for the Central District of the State Teachers Convention in Ames on April 2.

In the fall the marching band, composed of 75 early-to-rise members, performed with its usual precision, under the instruction of Richard Day. The unit was led by Sherry MacDonald, head drum major, and the eight majorettes, Mary Lou McCardle, Rae Anne Jordan, Janice Sherman, Mary Louise Taylor, Jan McCaffrey, Ruth Ann Smith, Mary Chase, and Susie Wiesner. The highlight of the season for the band was a trip to Grinnell, where they presented a half-time program. The marching band took part in the two spectacles of the year at Iowa State College, Band Day in the fall and Veishea in the spring.

The basketball season was spurred on by the pep band. Student conductors were Bob Bragonier and Terry Adams. The dance band, under the supervision of Milton Trexel, and the German band were among the smaller instrumental groups.

All-State tryouts were held in Des Moines on

Orchestra

November 26 and 27. The three boys who qualified for All-State Band were Jack Ayres, first French horn; Bob Bragonier, first trombone; and Dave Shrader, snare drum. All-State Orchestra named eleven Ames candidates: Elizabeth Coulter, Nancy Sanford, Diana Rex, Carol Sorenson, and Don Martin, violins; Kay Buchholtz and Bill Buchholtz, bass viols; Nancy Clauson, Charlene Caldwell, Tom Timm, cellos; John Shrader, bassoon; and Jon Piersol, clarinet.

CLASSROOMS WERE FILLED with the echoes of the orchestra three times a week during sixth period. The Ames High orchestra was conducted by Dallas Tjaden.

The spring concert was held on April 15 with Oklahoma and Folk Tune and Fiddle Dance included in the program.

The theater orchestra played for all of the plays during the year, as well as for Commencement and Baccalaureate in the spring.

The State Solo Contest at Boone on April 29 and 30 found six groups from Ames participating.

Tri-City festival practice under the baton of Emanuel Wishnow

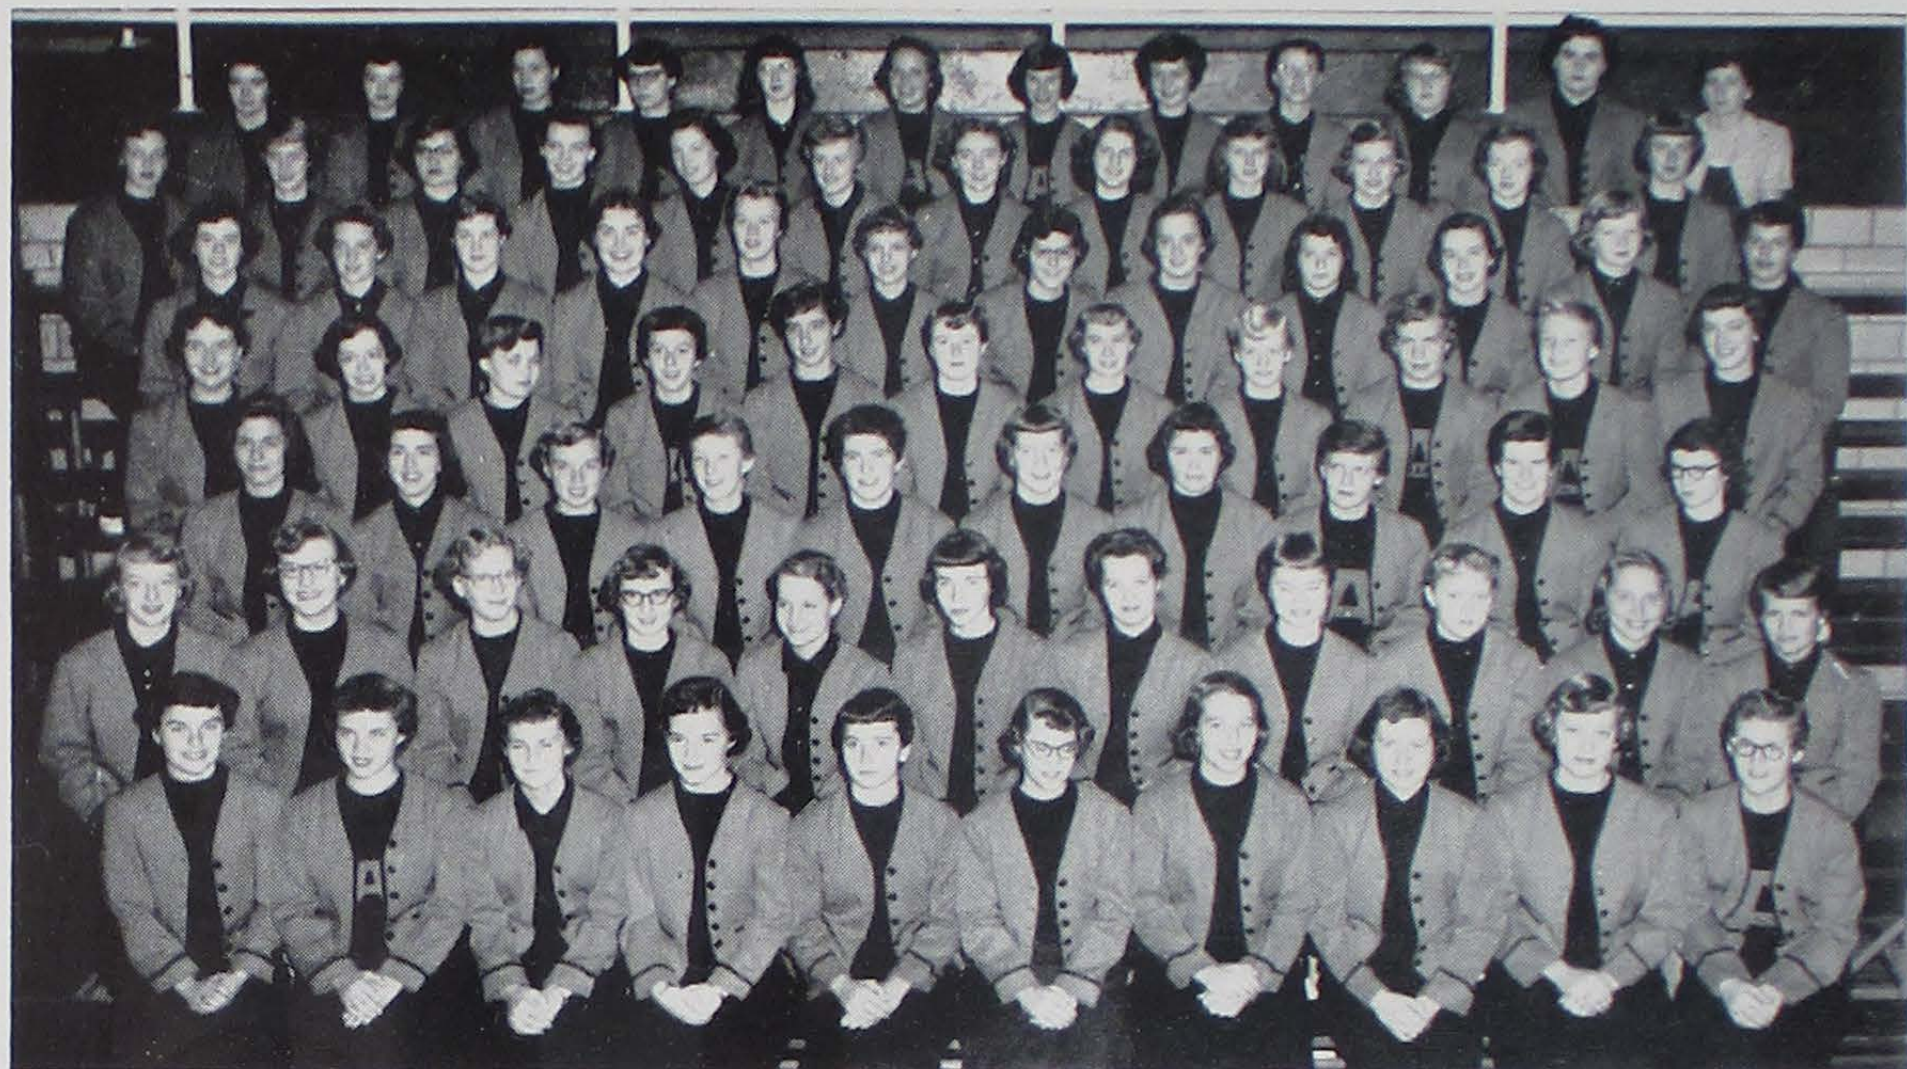

Included in the string quintet were Diana Rex and Elizabeth Coulter, violins; Ellen Molleston, viola; Nancy Clauson, cello; and Kay Buchholtz, bass viol. The group became a sextet when Marcia Wilsie accompanied them.

Webster City and Fort Dodge were Ames' guest at the Tri-City Orchestra Festival on March 1.

Two well known, well heard, groups which are very active in Ames High, are the Pep Club and cheersquad. The six members of the cheersquad, who are elected by the student body, held business meetings on Monday mornings, and practiced on Tuesdays and Thursdays. They were awarded A's at the end of the year.

The activities of the Pep Club were varied and numerous. In addition to their chief duty of yelling, they publicized events, sold basketball and football tickets, made and sold pom poms, had charge of pep skits, and did everything possible to generate pep.

VARSITY CLUB MEMBERS PLAN INITIATIONS, HOLD END-OF-YEAR PICNIC

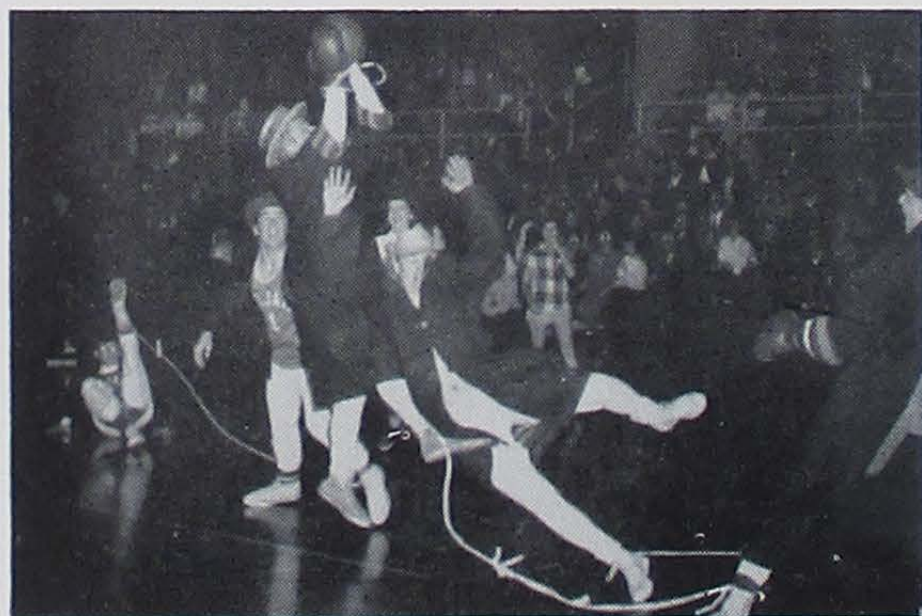

Varsity Club, made up of boys winning major awards in athletics, was directed by three officers and Kenneth Wells, sponsor. The officers were George Nelson, president; Dick Kratoska, vice-president; and Joe Williams, secretary-treasurer.

The club, with the approval of the sponsor and principal, planned initiations for new members and put on the Varsity Club picnic at Homewood Golf Course at the end of the year. Initiation was held at the picnic, with initiates “privileged” to caddy for the members. Officers for the coming year were also elected at the picnic.

To win a major A in football, boys must have participated in one-half of the quarters played during the season or on recommendation of the coach for three years participation or as an important factor in the team. A basketball award winner must have participated in one-third of the quarters of scheduled games or scheduled and tournament games. When Ames wins the State Championship, as this year, all members of the tournament squad were awarded major letters.

Players were eligible for awards in tennis if they earned 28 points or one-third the possible points from the various tournaments, excluding the final state tournament. A total of 180 points was required to win a major A in track. Golf awards were awarded for winning one-half of the points possible for the season, averaging eighty-three strokes or under for all 18 hole meets, placing first or second in the State Meet, or playing in two-thirds of the meets.

AMES HIGH "FIGHTING 11" WIN 16th CIC CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIP

The Little Cyclones this year won the Central Iowa Conference football title with a record of six wins, one loss and one tie. This was the sixteenth championship for Ames since 1928.

Since Coach Kenny Wells has been at Ames High the Little Cyclones have captured 10 CIC championships in 14 years, six of them in the last seven seasons. As head coach for 14 years, Wells' record to date is 88 won, 17 lost, and six tied.

The Ames squad this year scored a total of 191 points, while holding opponents to 73. During the last three games of the season the Little Cyclones racked up 108 points while holding their opponents, Grinnell, Fort Dodge and Boone to only 9.

The lone Ames High defeat came at the hands of West Waterloo, which snapped Ames' undefeated season. After this defeat, many observers agree that the Little Cyclones came back and played some of the best football ever played by an Ames High squad.

Captain Terry Rust led the scoring attack with ten touchdowns and an extra point for a total of 61. Jack Wolf, Ed Mezvinsky and Larry Spear followed with 45, 25, and 24 respectively.

On October 28 the members of the football squad were guests at a supper given by the Hi-Y and a fireside at Lynn Fuhrer lodge. Ken Wells, football coach, was in charge of the fireside which has been held annually since 1935. Each year it is held just before the Boone game. At the fireside, Terry Rust was chosen captain for the season.

The following boys were award winners:

Bob Campbell—IDPA honorable mention—CIC first team.

Jim Cox—IDPA honorable mention—CIC first team.

Ed McDowell—IDPA honorable mention—CIC second team.

Ed Mezvinsky—IDPA second team—CIC first team.

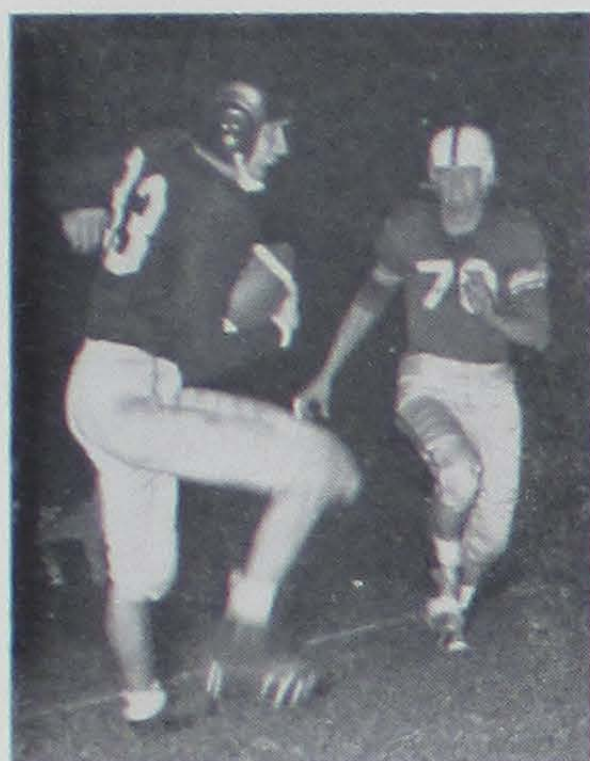

Terry Rust—IDPA honorable mention—CIC first team.

Larry Spear—IDPA honorable mention—CIC third team.

Bob Walkup—CIC honorable mention.

Jack Wolf—IDPA honorable mention—CIC first team.

The Season

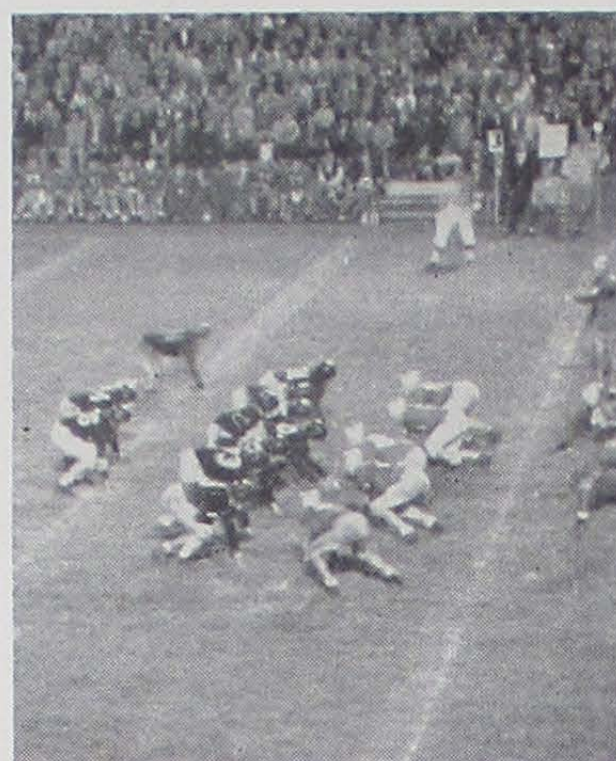

AMES 25—MASON CITY 6

The Little Cyclones took advantage of Mason City's "fumbleitis" to win the opening game of their 1954 football season.

After a 13-6 half-time lead, the Little Cyclones completely dominated the second half.

Terry Rust scored three TD's and compiled 146 of Ames' total 200 net yards. Jack Wolf scored the final touchdown to put the game "on ice."

AMES 6—NEWTON 6

Ames and Newton battled to a 6-6 tie in one of the most thrilling games of the entire season.

The Cardinals, scoring first on a 33 yard run, took the lead with little time left in the first quarter. The Little Cyclones retaliated quickly and knotted the score on a quarterback sneak by Jack Wolf.

Ames staved off a last minute drive by Newton in a dramatic climax.

AMES 12 — MARSHALLTOWN 6

Outfighting a determined Marshalltown team, Ames handed the Bobcats their first defeat of the season.

Larry Spear opened the Ames scoring column with a 57 yard run from scrimmage.

After tying the score 6-6 by half-time, Marshalltown never again seriously threatened.

During the third quarter, Rust scored the winning TD after the Bobcat punter was forced out-of-bounds on the eight yard line.

In Review

AMES 27—OSKALOOSA 6

The Ames ground attack proved too much for the Osky Indians in the Cyclones' third win of the season.

The Little Cyclones netted 369 yards by rushing against 81 yards by the Indians. The only weapon which kept the Indians from being swamped was their passing attack.

This victory moved the Little Cyclones to the top of the CIC.

AMES 13 — WEST WATERLOO 40

The Ames Little Cyclones suffered their only defeat of the season, 13-40, to a powerful team from West Waterloo.

The Wahawks scored within a few minutes. Their early spurt seemed too much for the Ames eleven as West held a 21-0 lead at half-time.

Though Ed Mezvinsky and Bill Stuart both scored for Ames, the Wahawks were not to be denied.

AMES 33—GRINNELL 0

Showing the form of previous games, the Little Cyclones blasted a heavier Grinnell team 33-0.

The winners virtually clinched the contest with three second quarter touchdowns.

Ames scored its final TD in the fourth quarter on a 41 yard pass play.

Defensively, the Little Cyclone line proved to be almost invincible, holding Grinnell to 41 yards rushing.

AMES 40—FORT DODGE 9

With burning desire Ames rocked Fort Dodge in a one-sided tussle, 40-9.

The Ames ground attack provocations of a tight scoring battle as both teams counted within the opening minutes. The tide changed quickly as Coach Ken Wells' boys "lowered the boom."

Jack Wolf scored twice for Ames, as did Terry Rust. Bob Walkup and Ed Mezvinsky each scored once.

AMES 35—BOONE 0

Ames kept the victory bell intact by pulverizing their traditional rival, Boone High.

The Cyclones scored each of the first three times they got their hands on the ball, as the event of two recovered fumbles by Ed McDowell and a pass interception by Tom Mosness.

Wolf, Mezvinsky, Spear, Rust and Mosness all entered the scoring column with one touchdown apiece for the Little Cyclones.

SOPHOMORES WIN 3 GAMES, LOSE 1, GAIN VALUABLE EXPERIENCES

As any football team hoping for success, the sophomore team put many hours of hard work in this year, and in the process learned many fundamentals and techniques, having a chance to practice them in four games during the season. Ron Norman's team ended a very successful year with a record of 3 wins and 1 defeat.

Though this team is usually unheralded and unpublicized, the members gain valuable training for future varsity play.

AMES 6—MARSHALLTOWN 14

During the first game of the season, Marshalltown scored on straight smashes over the middle of the Ames line and the Ames group seemed to have trouble stopping the power plays.

AMES 15—EAST DES MOINES 7

Ames' touchdowns were made by Phil Huse, on a 30-yard run, and on a pass from Chuck Lamson to Bob Callahan for about 30 yards.

One extra point was kicked by John Murray. George Torrey tackled an East Des Moines back in the end zone for a safety and two points. East scored on a long end run around the strong side end.

AMES 24—BOONE 6

The Ames forces proved very effective against Boone as they trounced them 24-6 for their second win of the season. Boone attempted several long passes, one setting up a touchdown for them.

AMES 19—NEVADA 0

With Nevada using a split T formation, the Ames sophs used the same defense as against Boone and completely swamped the boys from Nevada in their last game of the season.

Jerry Shipley and Roger Teig were trainers for the team. The trainers did all the necessary "extra work."

Cyclones swept over all tournament foes to become the 1955 State Champions. This was Ames' third title, the other wins coming in '36 and '45. Rated only a so-so team during the early part of the season, Ames really turned on the steam after that final defeat by Marshall-speed. During the three games in Des Moines, the Little Cyclones outscored their rivals by a 183 to 155 margin and had a 37.7 percent total for shots, while holding opponents to 28.7 percent. Throughout the final days, it was the brilliant defense and balanced teamwork that really paid off.

After their final victory, the new State Champs were escorted back to Ames by a highway patrolman and into the midst of their cheering fans. After a snake dance through the business district, a victory assembly was held in the high school auditorium.

On Monday, the trophy was presented to the school, and a day's vacation was declared.

SOPHOMORES SHARE CENTRAL IOWA CONFERENCE TITLE WITH GRINNELL

The varsity basketball team members weren't the only champions this year. The sophomore team, coached by Hi Covey, shared first place with Grinnell in the Central Iowa Conference race. Both teams lost two games in conference play during the season. Ames lost to Grinnell, 44-46, and to Boone, 44-52. In spite of the rugged schedule, the sophs came through with flying colors and showed good promise for next year.

All sophomore boys were eligible to try out for the team, and the squad was then selected by the coach.

Two members of the sophomore team, Bill Stuart and Bob Covey, were promoted to the varsity team, and proved to be a valuable asset. They were moved up following the Mason City game.

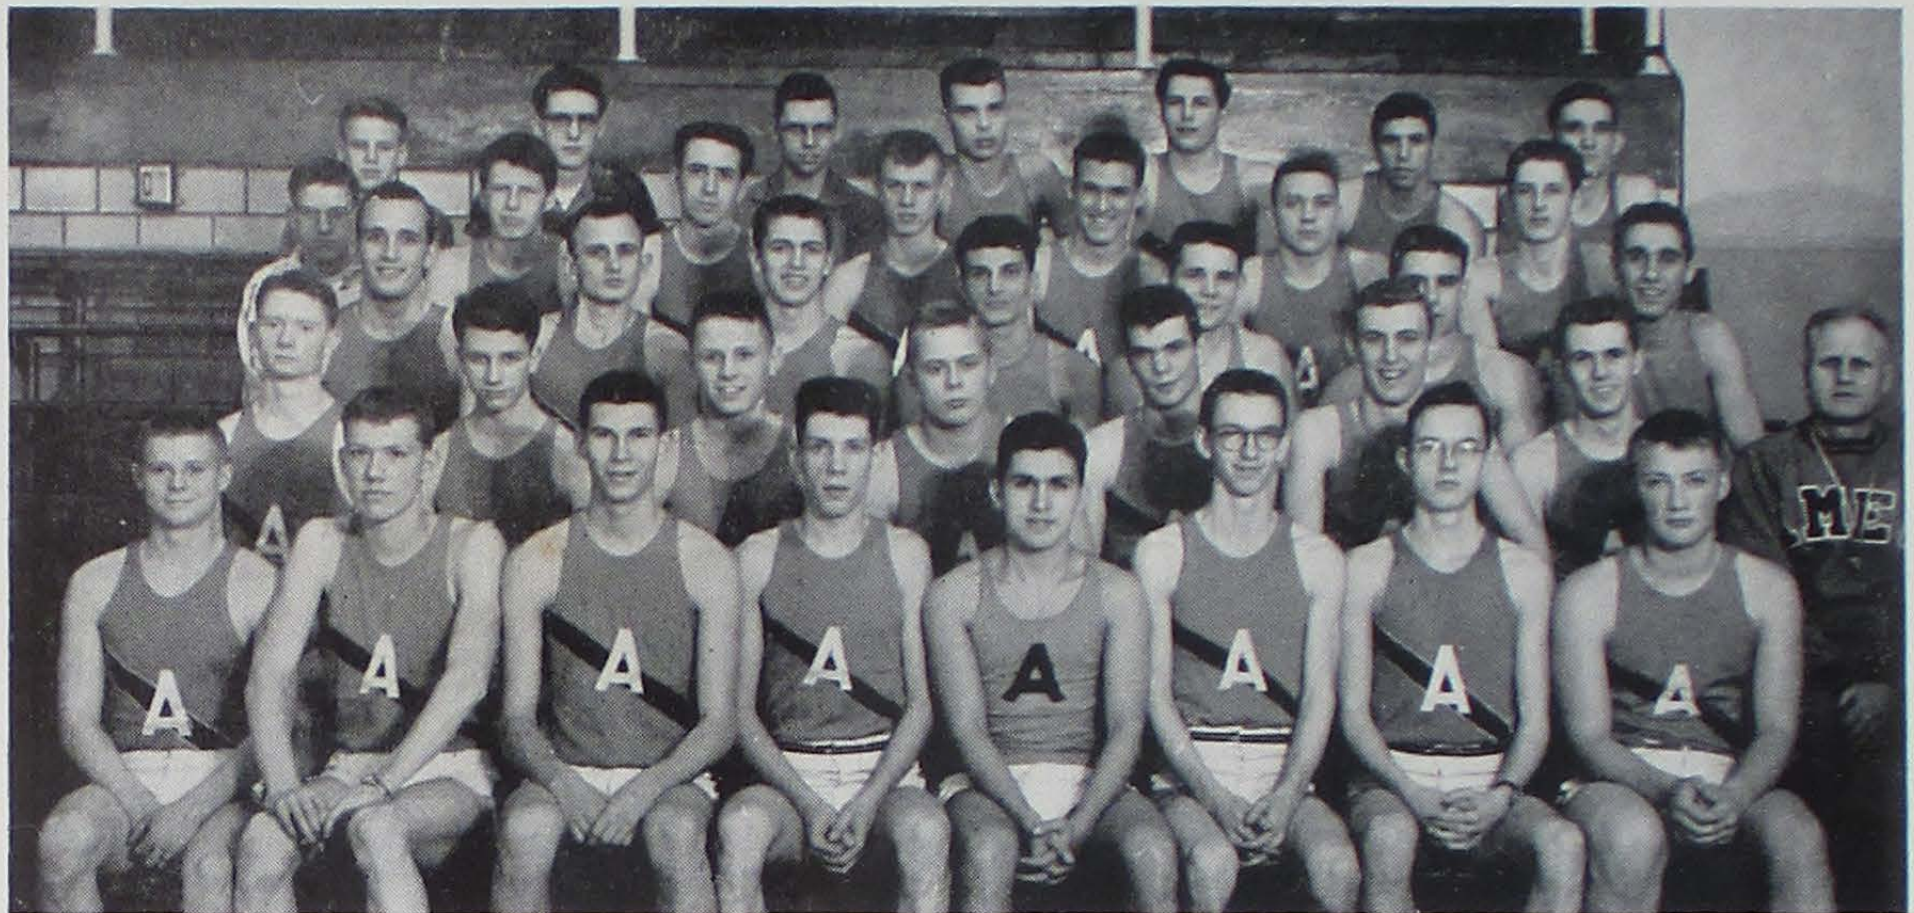

Coach Covey commented early in the season that the boys were good because of their finesse and, "they were good dribblers, could handle the ball well, and were good shooters."

The season's record proved Covey to be very right.

Only one and a fraction of a point separated the two rivals in a thrilling finish. Ames won three events and placed in enough others to total 39.7 points.

Captains for the track team were Peter Errington, Ed McDowell and George Nelson.

In April a partial squad participated in the Oskaloosa Relays. Also the team went to the Valley Relays at West Des Moines and the Invitational at Marshalltown.

A Triangular Meet and the state outdoor championship meet were held at Ames in May. The team participated in the district meet at Fort Dodge for eligibility in the state meet and in the Central Iowa Conference Meet at Oskaloosa.

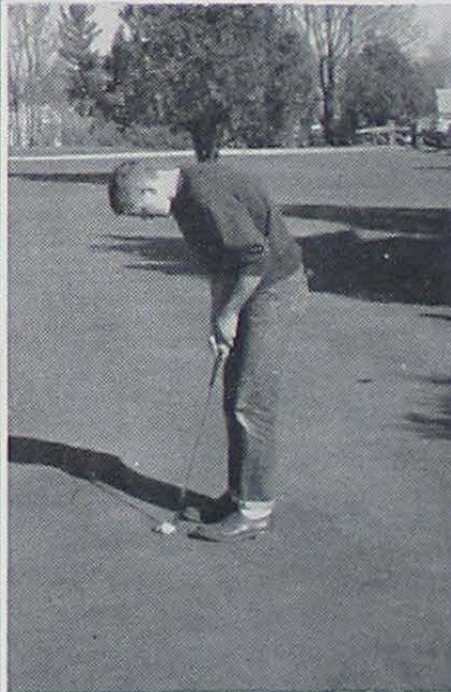

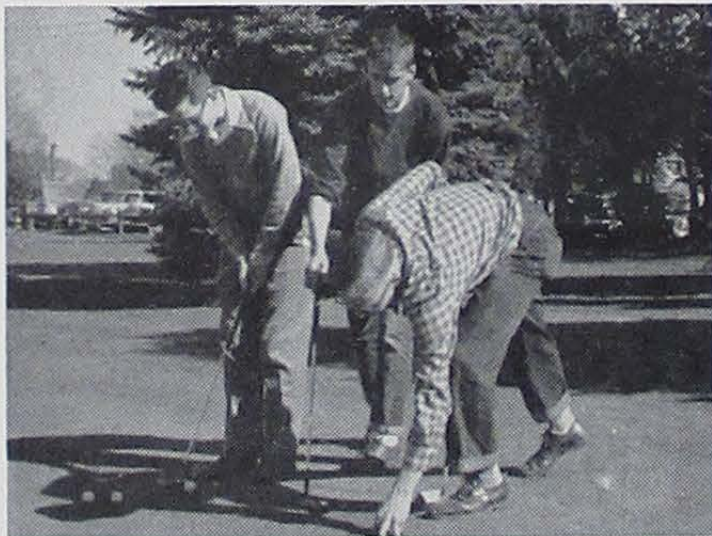

The reserve meets included triangular meets with Boone and Marshalltown, and dual meets with Des Moines North.

Homecoming

Beauty, as well as muscles, reigned this year at Ames High's annual Homecoming celebration on October 8. Elected as queen for the gala occasion was Miss Shirley Sevens. Shirley and her attendants, Marcia Wilsie and Mary Louise Taylor, were selected by the student body from a field of ten finalists. Bob Walkup, football captain of the game, announced the queens during a special assembly and presented them with flowers.

The queens led a parade and snake dance through downtown Ames. Participating in the parade were the pep club and marching band, and the student body. The football team rode on a float constructed for them by the pep club. The parade ended at the City Hall where Mayor Joseph Lawler gave a short talk and the cheerleaders led a pep rally.

In the game against West Waterloo, the Little Cyclones were defeated 40-13, to furnish the only sad note of the celebration.

Following the game, a party, "Holiday Homecoming" was held. During the intermission the queen and her attendants were presented.

Martha Elder was crowned 1955 SPIRIT Sweetheart at the mid-winter SPIRIT dance on Jan. 22. Attendants to the sweetheart were Mary Louise Taylor and Marcia Wilsie. The three girls were elected by popular vote of the student body from ten finalists, who also had been elected by the students.

Dick Davis was master of ceremonies for the gala evening and presented Martha and her attendants during the intermission. Just before the announcement of the queen, the 10 finalists were led through an arch of white streamers to the front of the study hall where each girl and her escort were introduced. Martha was presented with a dozen red roses and a corsage of a white glamelia with pink sweetheart roses. Marcia and Mary Louise each received corsages of a white glamelia and baby white mums.

During the intermission, the drawing for the free 1955 SPIRIT was also held and was won by Jerry Shipley.

The theme of the dance, Fantasia, was carried out with white streamers strung across the length of the study hall. Pastel three dimensional balls hung from the streamers. In addition to the hanging balls, the front of the study hall was decorated with a mural of a scene taken from the movie.

Jackie Andre, assistant SPIRIT editor, was the chairman of the dance and Sheila Grant, art editor, was in charge of decorations, and Susie Diehl had charge of publicity.

Friendship Week

In the midst of the athletics, activities, homework, and general chaos of high school days, Ames High students set aside the week of February 6-11 as Friendship Week. Guest speaker for the 28th annual week was Dr. Alvin Rogness, president of the Luther Theological seminary in St. Paul, Minnesota. On Sunday morning each student was requested to attend the church of his own choice, in preparation for the week. On Monday "huddles" were held, at which two homerooms met together to discuss problems.

Using the central theme of "The Second Mile," Dr. Rogness delivered three talks on "Why Run At All," "Let's Pretend," and "Beyond the Rules."

Leaders for the morning sessions were Girl Reserve and Hi-Y officers. Devotions were given by Father Moran, assistant pastor of St. Cecilia's church, Rev. G. S. Nichols, Collegiate Methodist church, Rev. A. E. Wilken, United Brethren church, and members of the Girl Reserves and Hi-Y.

Special music was provided by vocal music groups under the direction of Wayne Cross. Taking part were the a cappella choir, the girls' glee club and the girls' sextette.

Class forums were held each day to discuss various topics and problems with Dr. Rogness. Private conferences were also held.

Say Now—that'd be real nice to own that Oldsmobile from Dunlap's, huh, Judy?

Mary can be sure she'll get a fine watch if she buys it at Talbert's.

Jack and Mary Jo find Frango's Restaurant the right spot for a coke date.

Hmm...smell good, Jo? That's from Younker's perfume counter.

A typewriter from Ness's insures Jinny of good quality plus excellent service.

The Ninth Street Grocery is a handy place for Ann to pick up the family's food supplies.

"Better be safe than sorry" says Frances as she buys her insurance at Holtz and Nairn.

Carolyn seems pleased with the hair styling she receives at Max Harriman's.

A. J. is pondering over the complete stock of school needs at the Student Supply Store.

Rosy stops at the College Pipe Shop to fill her sweet tooth after the show.

Bill's kibitzing while he waits for the car to be fixed at Earl's Garage.

The sleek lines (of the car) entrance Debby at Motor Sales and Service.

Ad Album

Ruthie finds just what she wants in Younker's Ready-to wear.

What kind of paint from the Paint Spot does the Drama club want this time, Louie?

Dave can be sure of finding a shirt to fit at Younkers.

You can be sure if it's from Christiansons, huh Joyce?

Carolyn's getting ready for college with that beautiful luggage from Moser's.

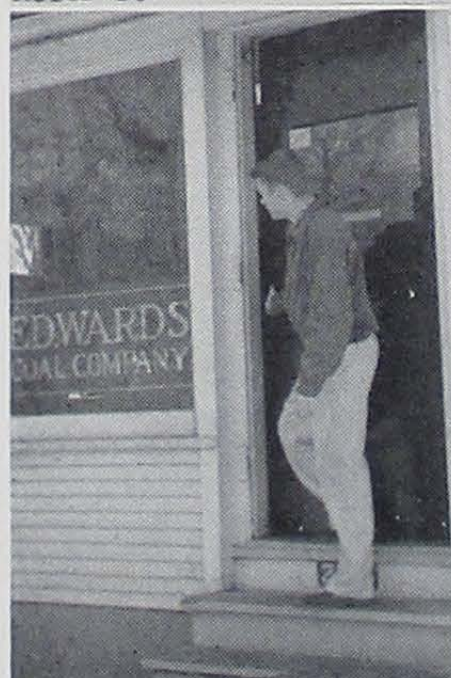

That pine-paneling from Johnson's Lumber would look nice in your room, huh, Gary?

The earrings at Bate's Jewelers catch Mary Ellen's eye.

For your best care in glasses — go to Jensen Optical.

Jerry's replenishing his supply of coal from Edwards.

Allan Machine Shop looks very well equipped, doesn't it, Cole?

Rosey can be sure of getting good cleaning service at the Pantorium.

The huge selection of meats is keeping Cathy busy at Rushing's.

Ad Album

Larry's filling in at Reinberger's Citiles Service

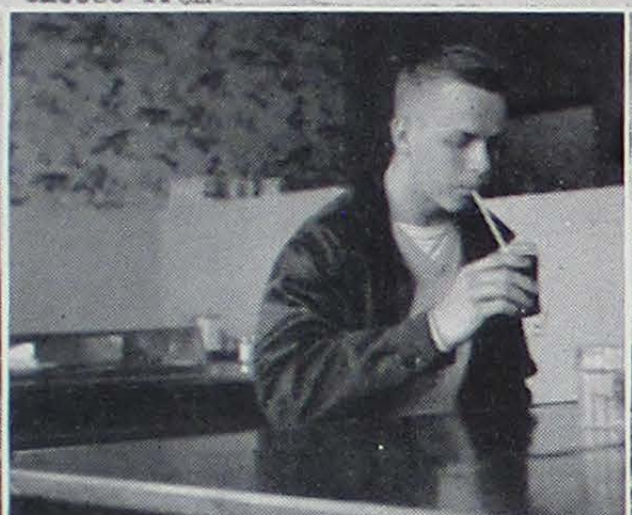

There's a large supply of cosmetics at Campus Drug for Mary Jo to choose from.

Sugar's sweet on this Packard from Whattoff's.

Jon finds the Stag Clothing a dependable place for fine quality clothes.

Lenon stops in for a short coke at the L-Way Cafe.

Sue's not backing out when it comes to buying a Buick from Allen Motor.

For best lumber buys — Ames Lumber is the place to go.

Dolores finds the Launderette the place to go to do the family washing.

Sheila's telling Joe how to pour his Pepsi at Scotty's Chicken Inn.

Bob does a little family shopping at the Ames Fruit and Grocery.

Dick takes time out to read the complete coverage of the tournament in the Des Moines Register.

Ad Album

Jim and John find the Rainbow a good place to stop after the show.

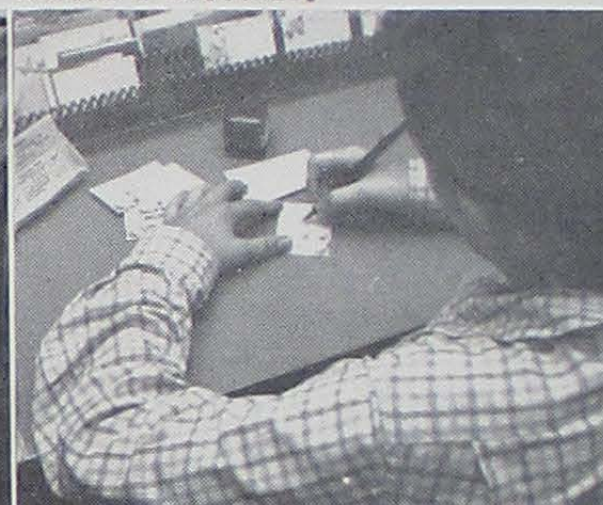

There's a new light on the subject as Zoya uses the mirror at Nelson's Electric.

Sharon will be smart to decorate her room with wall paper from Irvine's.

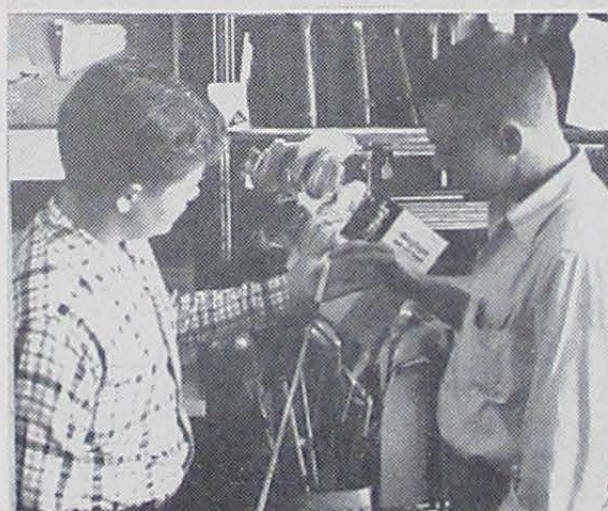

Naturally, Marcia takes all her cleaning to Lindquist's!

Hmmm - wonder where John is sending those flowers from Evert's Florists?

Bill can be sure of enjoying any book he buys at Walt's Newstand.

We'll bet that Bud can shoot that par with clubs from Sportsman's of Ames.

Does that slipper from Bauge's Shoe Co. fit, Cinderella?

Shirley helps Mary Jo decide as she shops in Younker's Sport section.

The large selection of flowers in Da Leart's has Jackie wondering what to choose.

Sally would just love to own that beautiful Mercury from Mathison's!

Cosmetics from Oslund's complete beauty counter will suit all Susan's needs.
